EDUCATION

- Ph.D., Land Resources University of Wisconsin-Madison, 1988. Dissertation: Aldo Leopold: His Life and Work.
- M.S., Land Resources University of Wisconsin-Madison, 1983. Thesis: Building "The Land Ethic": A History of Aldo Leopold's Most Important Essay.
- B.A., English/History DePaul University, 1980. With Highest Honors.

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

I have worked as a conservation biologist, conservation planner, environmental historian, writer, editor, reviewer, consultant, and advisor for a wide variety of organizations, agencies, and other institutions at the local, state, national, and international level. These have included: the U.S. National Academy of Sciences; the U.S. Agency for International Development; the World Conservation Union; the U.S. Forest Service and U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service; The Nature Conservancy; the Aldo Leopold Leadership Program; and the Forest Guild. Positions and projects have included:

- 1/2012-present Senior Fellow, Center for Humans and Nature
Responsible for working with CHN staff and partners on projects in fulfillment of its mission "to explore and promote human responsibilities in relation to nature—the whole community of life."
- 1/2007-2011 Director for Conservation Biology and History, Center for Humans and Nature
Responsible for developing programs involving a wide range of topics in conservation biology, land conservation, ecological restoration, community-based conservation, and environmental history and ethics.
- 5/2004-present Senior Leopold Fellow, Aldo Leopold Foundation
Responsible for working with ALF's staff and board of directors on projects in fulfillment of its mission of advancing the land ethic and its stewardship of the legacy of Aldo Leopold.
- 1/1993-present Research Associate, International Crane Foundation
Responsible for varied projects involving the conservation of cranes and their ecosystems around the world. As an ICF research associate, I participate as a member of the Crane Specialist Group of the World Conservation Union (IUCN).
- 6/2000-12/2003 Director of Conservation Programs, Wisconsin Academy of Sciences, Arts and Letters
Developed and oversaw conservation-related initiatives, including the "Intelligent Consumption Project," an examination of the relationship between conservation of forest lands and the consumption of forest products; "Waters of Wisconsin," a state-wide review of the status, needs, and sustainability of Wisconsin's aquatic resources and ecosystems; and incorporation of conservation and the environmental sciences in the Academy's core programs.
- 2/1992-9/1994 Consulting Conservation Biologist, Biodiversity Support Program
Principal organizer of Conserving Biological Diversity in Bulgaria, Bulgaria's national biodiversity strategy.

Involved extensive work with Bulgarian scientists, officials, NGO representatives, and the staff of the Washington-based Biodiversity Support Program. Edited the 2-volume Bulgaria's Biological Diversity: Conservation Status and Needs Assessment.

- 1/1990-8/1992 Program Officer, National Research Council, U.S. National Academy of Sciences
Served with the NRC Board on Science and Technology for International Development (BOSTID), in cooperation with the Board on Agriculture (BA). Worked with NRC scientific committees in developing, writing, and preparing reports on international biodiversity research, sustainable agriculture, and natural resource management.

Academic Positions and Activities

I have been a guest lecturer at several dozen universities and have held the following positions with the University of Wisconsin:

- 1/2006-present Adjunct Assistant Professor, Department of Forest and Wildlife Ecology, UW-Madison
Developed and co-teach graduate seminar Forest & Wildlife Ecology 600, Aldo Leopold and the Growth of Conservation Thought.
- 4/2003-present Community Advisory Board, University of Wisconsin-Baraboo/Sauk County
- 9/1989-1/1990, 1/1997-5/1997 Lecturer, Institute for Environmental Studies, UW-Madison
Organized and taught Environmental Studies 113, Environmental Studies: The Humanistic Perspective; Environmental Studies 307, Speaking for Nature: Literature and the Environment.
- 5/1987-8/1988 Project Assistant, Institute for Environmental Studies, UW-Madison
Research, writing and editing on a wide range of projects involving conservation, wildlife biology, environmental education, environmental history, international development, risk analysis and assessment.
- 1/1982-5/1987 Teaching Assistant, Institute for Environmental Studies, UW-Madison
In cooperation with the UW Integrated Liberal Studies Program. Courses taught: IES 112 Environmental Studies: The Social Perspective; IES 113 Environmental Studies: The Humanistic Perspective; ILS 256 Literary Interpretations of Technology; IES 400 Prospects for the Global Environment.
